

CoverGirl car insurance for women is a beautiful thing

Firstly, I would like to say, I am a real life female; providing cheap car insurance for women is my job and I'm proud of it.

I am also a mother of two, I work full time, I run a home, drive a car, have fun at the weekend. I'm busy, happy and wise.

You may not find women's car insurance that thrilling, but, believe me, when you know the facts about it you might feel proud too.

Women drivers are just plain better

No beating about the bush here ladies, car insurance is cheaper for women because we are better, safer, less aggressive drivers than men.

Statistics from the Social Issues Research Centre show that men still exhibit behaviours learned in their cave-man past; aggression, risk-taking and hunting to name but a few. The very traits that enabled prehistoric man to survive and mate successfully are still present in 21st century man's brain and do not sit so well behind the wheel of a powerful car.

Female drivers have attributes much better suited to car driving; we are calmer, more focussed, less likely to take unnecessary risks or show aggression. These findings have been recognised in a report by the Department of Gender and Women's Health at the World Health Organisation (WHO). The WHO, in their wisdom, called for recognition of these fundamental differences in the sexes by the introduction of gender-differentiated car insurance policies.

CoverGirl, cover woman, cover lady, cover you,

It doesn't matter in what terms you view yourself, at CoverGirl we understand the importance of any money saving device and so we aim to offer our lady drivers the best deal possible on their woman's motor insurance. As all car insurance policies do, we have to take into consideration your car, occupation, driving experience and your age, but above all it's your gender that's important to us.

You're a woman, HURRAH!

(But ok, if you really want to, we'll put your man on your policy as a named driver.)

Online car insurance for women is as easy as it gets

Now you're interested in CoverGirl car insurance, you probably just want to get on with it; find out the important things you need to know, make a decision and drive off into the sunset.

So, here's what you need to think about:

- You'll need to choose your level of cover; third party, third party fire and theft, or comprehensive (See our women's car insurance buying tips for more on this stuff).
- You'll be pleased to know that our policies include a very good deal on legal expenses cover up to £50,000. Other companies charge £50 for this.
- A free replacement vehicle will be available to you, if your car is damaged or written off in an accident that was not your fault.
- CoverGirl has teamed up with the AA to offer cheap breakdown cover for lady drivers who shop sensibly (that means buying a CoverGirl policy). We know full well the horror of a breakdown on a dark and rainy night and knowing that someone is on their way to get you back on the road is one of the best feelings ever. Breakdown cover – I would never be without it.

Online car insurance company claims – these are pretty easy too!

If the accident was not your fault and let's face it girls, statistically, it's far less likely to be your fault, sorting out your car insurance claim is usually done quickly and simply over the phone. You may have to give details of the accident on a form, so keep as much information about the accident as possible including photos and names of independent witnesses.

The difficult thing about car insurance for women is...

...absolutely nothing now you've found CoverGirl.

It's cheap.

It's quick: call 0800 954 97 56 and speak to one of our friendly advisers.

It's technically efficient: fill in the online form, we'll work out a quote, then all you have to do is CLICK!

And most importantly it's especially for you because you want car insurance for women – not men! Bless 'em.