

CoverGirl car insurance, women it's just for you

Car insurance for women drivers

Ok ladies, how much do you love your car? But how annoying is it to have to hunt down a cheap renewal premium when you'd rather be living your life? Do you wish you could save money on your car insurance? Women, let CoverGirl cover you and you'll be quids in and going out to spend all the lovely money you've saved.

Yes, CoverGirl online car insurance services was set up by women for women because it has been recognised that we drive differently to men and so, insurers are keen to offer safe female drivers better deals than most men, who are predisposed to take risks.

Now, some would argue about this (and our brother company who supplies car insurance for the rest of the driving population regularly try to), but it was the World Health Organisation that sanctioned these cheaper car insurance premiums – something to do with gender traits, chromosomes and our caveman ancestors – and well, we're not about to argue with their wisdom, are we?

So, by coming to a women's car insurance provider you're going to get a better deal on your cover from people who really know what they're talking about. Women, that is!

What do you do with your car?

Whether you use your car just for pleasure and leisure, i.e, holidays, going out at the weekend, shopping trips, etc., or whether you commute to work in it every day, as long as you roughly estimate your mileage and let us know how you use your car, we'll give you a really competitive quote because you are a woman driver.

Where do you keep your car?

If you are lucky enough to keep your car in a garage overnight, that can make your car insurance cheaper, but simple things like an off road parking space or factory fitted engine immobiliser will also mean that you get a better deal.

Car cover that's right for you

If you have a new car, or one that's worth more than a couple of thousand pounds, then you are probably going to need comprehensive car insurance. It covers the repairs for other drivers and their vehicles in the event of an accident if you are at fault and also covers repairs to your vehicle. If your car is written off, stolen or burnt, you will get a payment for the value of the car.

If your car is worth less but is worth more than a few hundred pounds then, then you will probably be better off with third party fire and theft. This option is cheaper than comprehensive insurance and covers you in an accident that is your fault, but it won't cover repairs to your car. TPF&T also means that if your car is stolen or burnt you will get a lump sum for the value of the vehicle.

If you drive a car that's only worth a few hundred pounds, it will probably be financially more sensible to buy third party only cover. If you cause an accident, then the insurers will pay for damage done to the other driver's cars, but they won't pay for repairs to your vehicle. Similarly, if your car is stolen or burnt, you won't be covered, but often, what you have saved in insurance premiums could buy you another cheap banger anyway.

Are you a safe driver?

If you drive for the life of your CoverGirl insurance policy without having an accident and without having to make a claim you will get one year's no-claim bonus, and when we give you your renewal quote next year, your premium will hopefully go down. Gradually you can build up your no-claim bonus and this will help to keep your car insurance premium as low as possible.

Yes, ladies, it really does pay to be a safe driver.

Are you a car mechanic?

No? Well, all CoverGirl women's car insurance policies include free breakdown cover with a top national recovery company, so that you can drive on your own, safe in the knowledge that if you break down, a qualified engineer will be on their way to get your car going again.
