

CoverGirl – the fresh, funky and fun way to get your car insurance quote

When I was a little girl, I remember going to get our yearly car insurance with my dad. We had to get up early on a Saturday, the only day he didn't work when the broker's would be open. We had to be there early because they shut at 12 o'clock, they got really busy by half-past-ten, and my dad always wanted to be the first to be served. We would drive our mustard coloured Volvo estate the half-hour journey to his trusted motor insurance firm, and I would sit in the dank and dusty office in the high street, smelling the musty odour of box upon box of the files and documents that meant people were insured to drive their cars or that their belongings would be safe in the event of a fire.

After about 40 minutes, the paperwork would be done, the information had been gathered and the car insurance quote had been accepted by my dad. Then off we would trundle: one boring Saturday morning wasted, once a year, around September, back in the day when getting your car insurance sorted involved such a trip.

The thing I remember most keenly is the office smell and the plastic tulips in a cracked vase on the secretary's desk. I have forgotten whether or not my dad was happy about having to complete this chore, or whether or not he felt he had got a good deal on his motor insurance – I mainly remember the tulips.

Today, getting your car insurance quote is a completely different matter.

Car insurance – do it in your arm chair

Nowadays, you don't have to take time out of your precious weekend to sort your car cover. You can do it in your lunch hour, or from your arm-chair after work. You just have to pick up the phone and call our friendly assistants on 0800 954 97 56.

Alternatively, you can click on the pink 'get a quote' button and fill in the online form. You just need your vehicle and driver details, then you just fill in the boxes. It's easy and prompts you if you've gone wrong. Then it checks over a hundred policies and flags up the cheapest selection.

It clearly tells you what is included, like audio cover and windscreen cover and all you have to do is accept a quote. It's that simple.

CoverGirl motor insurance goodies for free

All our car insurance policies come with two things as standard; breakdown cover and legal expenses insurance.

Breakdown cover

We have teamed up with a top breakdown company to make sure you are never stuck at the side of the road without assistance. We give you, yes, give you, roadside assistance for free, yes free. We know how scary a breakdown can be and having all been there at one time or another, we also know how reassuring it is to make one phone call to get someone on their way to help you out – there's no "can you wait 'til the end of the match?" – one call is all it takes and a mechanic will be on his way.

Legal expenses cover

If you are involved in an accident that was not your fault and you experience personal injury as a result, you may have to take time off work, or suffer pain and discomfort through injury. At CoverGirl we make sure you have up to £50,000 of legal cover so that a personal injury solicitor will be able to claim compensation on your behalf. Other insurance companies charge up to £50 for this service. We don't make a charge; we believe you should never lose money or suffer through someone else's negligence.

Car insurance shops – a thing of the past

Here at CoverGirl we know the day of the car insurance high street broker is gone. Women out there don't want to pay over the odds for their motor policy and so, the internet is a lady driver's best mate.

CoverGirl is an online car insurance company with a small, super-efficient call-centre. We don't have huge premises paying a premium for high street positioning and we don't have mass advertising campaigns employing bad actors to wear silly costumes – it may look cheap and naff, but it actually costs those firms a packet.

We simply bring you a great car insurance product, quickly, safely and cheaply; straight to your computer or your phone.

CoverGirl car insurance just for you

So, what are you waiting for?

We are dedicated to providing cheap car insurance for ladies because we are a safer bet than men. Statistically women make fewer claims for less severe accidents than man and therefore, we don't have to charge so much to insure your vehicle.

We are a technologically advanced fresh, funky, fun form of the old dusty, musty broker's shop, but with one major difference – there are no plastic tulips in sight.

Give us a try, compare car insurance quotes with CoverGirl and we will surprise you at how much you can save.
